Dear Mr. Halper:

I am writing this letter to inform you that after a review of the FBI’s investigation into allegations of criminal violations on the part of David Tenenbaum, this office must decline prosecution because there is insufficient evidence to sustain an indictment or to meet our burden of proof at trial. This conclusion has been reached after close consultation with Michael Liebman of the Department of Justice, the FBI agents in Detroit assigned to this case and United States Attorney Saul Green.

I want to emphasize that this investigation was exceptionally thorough and that the agents involved always conducted themselves in a manner which met the highest professional standards. They worked in total cooperation with this office and with the Department of Defense personnel. There is no question that if evidence existed which would prove this case, then these agents would have found it. On behalf of myself and the United States Attorney, I commend the Detroit agents for their diligence in pursuing this matter to the end.

Sincerely,

SAUL A. GREEN
United States Attorney

MICHAEL C. LEIBSON
Assistant U.S. Attorney
